Education

Our broad slate of specialized software services extends to educational institutions, where we have built, modernized, and enhanced solutions for colleges and universities to help them meet their ever-changing needs. By applying our tried-and-true methodologies, we have developed large-scale systems to help our educational clients manage everything from student accounts, billing, and educational loans to faculty rents and mortgages.

RedMane-developed systems have addressed critical education business processes such as posting of financial transactions, payroll/stipend deduction, letter generation, reporting (internal, state, and federal), aging, daily balancing, and JV processing, inbound/outbound interfaces to other internal and external systems (for example, Financial Aid, Payroll, Housing, Accounting), and workflow.

And our systems can help with scholarship and fellowship management, too.

When it comes to providing solutions for higher education, RedMane stands firmly at the head of the class.
